

Different Shape of Match Pewter

Match pewter is handmade by artisans in the north of Italy. Each piece is made with an alloy that is food safe, lead-free, FDA approved and requires little or no care. Since 3000 BC pewter has been used to make functional and decorative objects for the home. Today Match continues this ancient tradition using methods that have been passed down through generations of Italian artisans. The hallmarks on each piece are the signatures of their skilled hands. Each piece of Match pewter is a testament to the timeless values of craft and authorship often overlooked in this age of speed and convenience. The classic forms harmonize with both traditional and modern settings. Its warm reflections recall celebrations at well laid tables and storytelling by candlelight.

The Universal Potteries Company sold many lines to grocery stores, movie houses and service stations for use as premium items. Cattail can be found in a variety of shapes. It can also be found on tinware, glassware and wood items. An oak kitchen table was available from Sears decorated to Match Gift Pewter the Cattail dinnerware. Ballerina was also widely distributed and decorated in many different decorations and treatments.

The first tablescape displays Solonge by Gien with the handmade Pewter Gallic Charger from Match. The plate you see is one of the 6 drawings from the dessert ensemble. A fabulous combination that can take different look depending on the table cloth you select. For example, the look will be softer if pale blue or pure linen was used instead of the orange. Gien is known as the number one producer of the highest quality earthenware in France. Match pewter is handmade by artisans in the North of Italy. Please purchase on online <http://www.etabletop.com>

About the Author

Representing Match Gift Pewter in the website www.etabletop.com

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>