

Renting A Limousine

Everyone thinks of renting a limousine for a special occasion. Special occasion can be marriage or convocation. Some people just need simple transportation to or from the airport. But everyone often has some questions in mind regarding renting out the car. You can expect these policies in terms of cost and policies when renting a limousine. First question which will come in our mind is that how much it costs to rent a limousine going to or from the airport. We cannot reach up with an exact figure here because it varies from city to city, and vehicle type. Speaking on a general note an airport service in a limousine is only a few dollars more than taxis, which can be unpredictable and offer less than standard service. So one can afford these services for larger parties as limousine airport service is an affordable alternative when split amongst the party. on an average flat rate fees range from fifty five dollars to eighty dollars for sedans, while stretches range from sixty dollars to one hundred and fifty dollars depending upon the vehicle size, and location of pick-up and drop-off. One must be careful when choosing which limousine to order because of the various models and categories available these days. QVM or CMC limousines must meet safety and structural integrity standards set by the manufacturers. If you do some research on ordering larger limousines you will find that some companies will tell you that the longest QVM or CMC limousines that is one hundred and twenty inches long from Lincoln or Cadillac are ten-passenger limousines. Actually they are not; they are certified for just nine occupants who include the chauffeur and eight passengers.

Thus placing ten passengers in a one hundred and twenty inches stretch will be uncomfortable at best. If you are renting an eight-passenger limousine, the vehicle seating can accommodate eight people of average size. It is advised that such vehicles cannot accommodate fat people in a comfortable manner. You can also ask that will the driver wear a uniform, since some limousine companies have standard uniforms and other don't have as it would be better that the driver is clean and looks professional. Because if you are using the limousine for wedding, a well dressed driver opening the door of limousine for you and your spouse looks very appealing and good. In this case you can also ask if they can put the 'Just Married' sign and if it has extra charge or if you can put your own sign. Having knowledge of all the details is very important as you actually don't want to end up knowing certain rules when you already have signed a contract with them.
