

Gift Ideas For Mom's Celebrating Their First Mother's Day

Outside of a baby's birth, nothing can be more exciting and special to a first time mother as her very first Mother's Day. That celebration of bond between mother and child is one that few holidays represent better than Mother's Day.

If you are a new father, grandparent or friend of a new mom and looking for new ideas to help her make this first Mother's Day a special one, you're in store for a bucket full of ideas. When it comes to mother's day gifts for the first time, nothing can express your child's personality and their mother's love better than a memorable keepsake. Gifts such as baby's first prints impressed on a custom painted plate, tile or other piece to commemorate those first precious moments.

Another great idea is decorating the nursery with new baby bedding, or baby furniture, especially if this was skimped or bypassed in preparation of baby's arrival. Women love expressing their personalities and flair with their home furnishings. As the nesting place for her precious young, the home and the nursery in particular are not just a functional room to change and feed the baby, but a place for expressing her deepest and truest love for her little one. Luxury baby bedding such as those made by Sterling Anabella, Kensington, Henry & Henrietta, Lula Smith and Serena & Lily.

If she is the organized type or needs some help getting things in order, there is a very sassy yet remarkably handy organizer called the Momagenda that will keep in place everything from shopping lists, appointments, schedules and agendas for her and the kids. In a stylish faux lizard skin pink, this is no ordinary day runner - this is any mom's command central planner.

For memorable keepsakes that are fun for her and for those giving the gift, custom plates, wall hangings, pottery pieces and decorative items can be easily and affectionately made with the love and care that any mother would cherish.

For the fashionable yet practical mom, the monogrammed GG bag by Queen Bea Studios is a great selection. The unique GG design is on heavy, natural canvas with a choice of colored bindings. You can get a 3 letter monogram or up to 8 letter word that makes this a truly original and stylish gift that she can use to tote around all the necessities of a first time or seasoned mom.

If she is a nurse or doctor, there is now the most adorable personalized baby scrubs. Now while these are more for baby than mom, she will be tickled pink none the less. Made with a lightweight, soft, breathable cotton these scrubs are perfect for playtime, nap time, or for Halloween. I love sharing great finds, and this medical keepsake box is one of the best deals I've found and a perfect Mother's Day gift. These sweet medical keepsake boxes are ideal for tracking baby's health. Each kit, in your choice of blue or pink, contains: thermometer, scissors, nail clippers, a hot/cold pad, comb, brush, and nasal aspirator - everything baby needs in those first few months. There is even a notebook to record your child's pertinent health information. This box is so adorably designed that it is sure to be set out and used as frequently for all the little growing pains.

The last gift I will highlight is my personal favorite. All women, especially new mom's can appreciate the luxuries of a relaxing bath, or soothing soak. The momease new mother kit is designed with the specific needs of a new mother in mind and includes the essentials for creating a comfortable, restorative and even luxurious post-partum experience. Motherhood with all of its great joys brings about many changes in a woman's life. Suddenly life is hectic and it is difficult to find time for one's self.
