

Jimmy Buffett Concert Tickets Are Tickets To Paradise!

Every Parrothead (that's what Jimmy's fans are known as!) knows that Jimmy Buffett concert tickets are actually tickets to a tropical fantasy! It's got congas, steel drums, lyrics that spell ecstasy, and of course, Jimmy him self!

One of the specialties of Buffett's songs are they are partly based on truths and feature ingenious titles like "If The Phone Doesn't Ring, It's Me"! One of the examples of his truth based songs is "Fins." Buffett created it while observing a group of guys trying to select a bikini contest winner!

Songs All The Way

Some of the sensational songs that have made the fans desperate for Jimmy Buffet concert tickets are:

Margaritaville

Cheesburger in Paradise

It's Five O' Clock Somewhere (it's a duet with Alan Jackson)

Let's Get Drunk and Screw

Fruitcakes

Boat Drinks

Volcano

Changes in Latitudes, Changes in Attitudes

The concerts of Jimmy Buffett are like a whimsical holiday in Havana. The fun is marked with "Money Back Guarantee." The venue turns into a land of Parrotheads and margaritas, of people who are coming to terms with what's happening (they are the new Parrotheads!), and of those who want to drench themselves with the gushing bliss and forget everything else!

And mind you, Parrotheads come fully prepared to Jimmy Buffett concert. They dress in grass skirts, Hawaiian shirts, and straw hats. There are blenders that churn cocktails in gallons. Some of them are powered by electric generators. Rum, Tequila, and other kinds of drinks do the rounds. So, which one is your taste? Pick a drink, dance a jig, get drunk, and keep smiling – you're on top of the world – you're with Jimmy Buffett!

This is the uniqueness of Jimmy Buffett concerts. Unlike other concerts, the entertainer remains at the backdrop and it's the audience that dominates the show. It's the pre-party, where Parrotheads in Hawaii outfits mingle with each other and turn the event into a social gathering. This is the tailgate party that happens a few hours before Buffett steals the show.

Well, this is one artist who lets the audience take over before he bowls over everyone with his irresistible charm! Who would have ever imagined that a concert could be converted into a tropical party? But one man did imagine it some 30 years back. He decided to pen down songs that talked about days in Margaritaville, about having boat drinks sitting at the deck of a ship sailing in water, and of living a life as if you're the king of paradise. That man is Jimmy Buffett.

Jimmy Buffett concert tickets are not just for the young people. It's for everyone, right from your kid sister to your grandpa! Age is no bar at Buffett concerts. The only thing you need to have is a zest for life!

So, bring along your smile, your attitude, some style, and your enthusiasm. And, please leave behind all fears and inhibitions. This is Jimmy Buffett concert. It's an escape to paradise.
