

Christian Memorials Tributes Steve Irwin with Online Memorial

Steve Irwin, better known as The Crocodile Hunter to the world, was tragically killed in waters near Batt Reef, Queensland Australia whilst filming an underwater documentary. Aged only 44 and in the peak of this career, the sudden death has left a nation in mourning. His compassion and active involvement in conservation saw him raise to fame in America with his unique Australian language and personality. He leaves behind American-born wife Terri and two beautiful children Bindi and Robert who now live in Australia. His memory will be carried on by "Australia Zoo" in Queensland, owned and operated by his family.

Steve always referred to himself as a Wildlife Warrior and later formed the conservation group "Wildlife Warriors Worldwide". Using his own funds from films and sponsorship deals, the organization purchased various wildlife rich areas across the world (America, Fiji, Australia). Given the vast amount of habitat destroyed each year, Steve's only goal was to ensure animals always had a home.

It seems too tragic for belief. The Crocodile Hunter is a story of a humble man with a passion for life and the environment, who became perhaps the most well known Australian in the world. May he be remembered for not only his high energy personality, but also his amazing ecological achievements.

Christian Memorials has created an online memorial website to continue the legacy of Steve Irwin which has seen volumes of sympathy messages from across the globe. They welcome everybody to leave their thoughts of Steve by signing the online guest book.

Christian Memorials Online Web Sites support full, multi-media memorial content including video and audio. Customers can create sub-pages from a memorial to reflect on various aspects of history and life. The service also facilitates the creation of personalized messages that can be delivered on future dates, even after the death of the sender.

About the Author

Nathan Martyn is co-founder of Christian Memorials - <http://www.christianmemorials.com>

To visit the online memorial for Steve Irwin, please click here.

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>