

Pre-Employment Screening at CriminalData.com

CriminalData.com is an online Pre-employment Screening service that provides instant access to background and criminal records. CriminalData believes in the positive power of information and is committed to creating a safer and more secure workplace. HR professionals and hiring managers collaborate with CriminalData to find, select and screen candidates and make faster hiring decisions.

It is imperative that you make Employee Background Checks an integral part of your hiring process. Businesses, big or small, are at a constant threat of being infiltrated by fraudulent individuals who have a criminal history. If such a character is employed at your workplace, and has access to sensitive financial and client information, your company is likely to incur fraud losses. To effectively prevent occupational fraud it is your task to hire responsibly.

CriminalData.com enhances your hiring practices and helps you avoid lawsuits and prevent hiring mistakes. With increasing crime in every walk of life, pre-employment screening at CriminalData ensures that your business, you and your employees are in an environment free of security concerns, corporate scandals, and workplace violence.

There have been several instances of criminals gaining access to the core of a business and bringing ruin upon it, all due to no pre-employment screening in place. CriminalData runs thorough background, criminal and drug tests on all applicants to select a worthy candidate who has a high sense of integrity, hard work, professionalism and commitment.

CriminalData has instant access to the largest of databases of criminal records state-wide and at the county level too. A pre-employment screening of your potential employee will delve on details such as name and address identity, social security number, employment history, bankruptcies, credit report and credit related legal actions, criminal record, evictions record and driving records. Reports also include instant criminal checks, Address History, Sex Offender Registry check, education verification, credential verification and drug screening.

CriminalData excels in the methodologies used to investigate a potential hire. All you have to do is walk through the simple account set up online procedure. This set up is absolutely free with no set up fees or membership fees. You may cancel at any time. While you partner with CriminalData, you are sure to get high quality, fast and secure screening services.

The ultimate employee you choose at the end will be an individual with just the right combination of personality, skills, abilities, and commendable past behaviour as an employee. CriminalData.com will make sure that the employee you hire is productive and reliable, and has the right attitude. With personalized customer service as a top priority with CriminalData.com, there is always someone to protect your interests and address your concerns!

For more information, visit: Pre-Employment Screening

About the Author

The author is a Writer working with a leading Pre-Employment Screening company, which deals with Background Checks, Criminal Records, Criminal Background Checks, Pre-Employment Screening Company. Get more valuable information at Background Checks

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>