

Ski Jobs Canada, Ski Jobs Abroad

Two kinds of employment are basically offered by Ski resorts Canada. These include the jobs on the snow and service jobs. Various categories are covered by both types of positions. The ski jobs Canada seeker can successfully get employment by availing different avenues. Some basic principles should be in a job seeker's mind while getting these glamorous ski resort jobs. First and foremost the resort owners always look for the most competent and most reliable personnel as they are running a for-profit business. A good work ethic is very important in this respect.

It should be kept in mind that the majority of available ski jobs Canada are seasonal. Therefore, the candidates should have a strong commitment of working the entire season.

Hospitality Jobs

Overnight and vacation facilities on or near the resort are provided by most ski resorts Canada. The service side of the business requires the candidates to work in any of the basic hotel / restaurant positions. The jobs of food preparation, waiting and bussing tables, bartending, ski shop staff and janitorial work among other services are covered in the available jobs. The reservations, check-in, valet and room service, maintenance and janitorial staffing are covered by the hotel positions

Seasonal based positions in ski resorts are usually opened at the entry level and there is no requirement of a lot of past experience. However, it requires the good grooming, good personality and again, most importantly – dependability which becomes the main criteria of selection.

Finding a Ski Jobs Canada

A Canadian ski jobs seeker can be successful in securing a position in the ski resort industry without much difficulty. He can easily get job by following one of three ways. One, apply early - late summer or early fall by either hand delivering a resume or mailing one with an offer to come for a face-to-face interview.

Second, knowing someone who already has a position and will return, or was offered an opportunity to return for another season. You should make use of his good will and ask him to speak on your behalf. The recommendation of good help is almost always trusted by the management. Third tip is just to show up at the resort during the season and be ready to start immediately. It is least reliable but very often a lucky approach to find an opening.

Ski Resort Perks

Perks are the main attractions for the ski resort jobs in Canada. The truth is that the perks may outweigh the wages. Usually, a position comes with the equivalent of season ski or snow boarding pass (valid as long as you work there), ample time in the work schedule for skiing and some discount on services (food and beverages), equipment and lessons.
