

The vanishing female advantage

Most women don't find it humorous if their odd way of life is exposed and turned into a big joke. They have a lot to feel guilty about and are on guard against anyone that is capable of blowing the whistle on them. But a new generation of informed men is entering the population that won't accept the way women think and are ready to make big changes.

The era of the trophy woman is coming to an end. Men are starting to realize that the price that they have to pay for having one is way out of line. She might raise your self esteem, but when she maxes out your credit card you will have no self esteem but only a second job. If you are horny she might seem like a good sex partner, but take it from me that homely women are just as good in bed if not better. The worst curse is to be sent into orbit with an aged trophy woman; she no longer will look cute, but will still have the attitude that men owe her something. You will then be forced to commit suicide by leaving the spaceship.

The era of high priced sex is also coming to an end. With the flood of third world women entering the country, a good sex partner is available without the cost of a two carat diamond ring. They are not spoiled and you will have a good woman if you are a fair guy.

They will not dominate or try to enslave you. She will live with you and not over you. Try internet dating services where they are available.

Now that I am older I find most women that are my age to be bores. They have nothing to talk about except their grand children or the trip they would like to go on. They think that they still look like a twenty year old and imagine that a man would do any thing to get them into bed. But that is far from the truth. I would rather take a long walk alone then make love to an aged woman. It is also true that an older woman would rather take a long walk alone then make love to an aged guy like myself.

I sound like an angry person but I am not. Women have a right to be who they are, and I wish them all the luck and happiness that they can find. But they will have to find it without me.
