

Merchant Account Europe - International Acceptance

One of the major advantages of having a merchant account in Europe is the low cost and the hassle free solutions that your merchant account provider will be able to offer you. Accepting credit/debit cards is no longer a hassle for the European merchant accounts. You get not just various credit card processing solutions but also a wide range of benefits at reasonable prices.

All kinds of businesses from gaming to adult, travel, retail, pharmacy, telemarketing and telecommunications are able to acquire fraud protection and cost effective solutions with European merchant accounts.

An ideal European merchant account will be able to offer you a great number of quality features that will entertain all your e-commerce needs and give your business the necessary boost.

- For high risk businesses there is no caps limit on your European merchant account and you will be able to processes high volume sales without any worries about your account being shut down
- You will also be able to accept all kinds of credit/debit cards
- A reliable payment gateway and virtual terminal will allow you and your customers to process all kinds of payments
- Online fraud prevention along with SSL encrypted servers and 3D secure protection will give your European merchant account an added advantage over the others
- 24/7 customer care and technical support
- Multi-currency transactions will allow you to accept all kinds of currencies and give you a customer base that is not just strong but also global
- European merchant accounts offer an easy and hassle free set up
- Automated recurring billing options give the European merchant accounts another added benefit over the many others

About the Author

With over ten merchant acquiring partner banks across Europe Instabill offers all kinds of European Merchant Accounts all over the continent. More info on Merchant Accounts.

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>