

Various Payment Processing Systems

If you have an e-commerce business and you are not offering various payment processing services to your customers then your business is lagging behind the many who offer these. Its not just credit card processing that your customers will require. There are many who do not even use credit cards and would want to use the various other payment processing services and if you are not offering those then you might as well be saying goodbye to so many potential customers.

Having a strong payment processing system is essential for any e-commerce business. Merchant account providers who offer you various payment processing options understand why your business needs such a capability. Providing your merchants with diverse payment processing options will give you a strong customer base and help improve your sales.

Payment Processing System Options

The various major alternatives in a payment processing system include:

- Credit/Debit Card Processing
- ACH Processing
- ELV
- Bank Wire
- Direct Debit

Credit/Debit Card Processing

The most common and widely used payment processing system, credit/debit card processing helps boost your sales to a great extent. The virtual terminal allows safe transactions and offers protection from online fraud as well. Your merchant account provider will offer you credit card processing software as well, allowing you to offer cost effective solutions and a better performance to your customers.

ACH Processing

ACH payment processing system helps save time and money. With this your business enjoys the convenience of electronic funds transfer and cheaper prices. This is one payment processing system that allows helps streamline the payments and give you accelerated availability of funds. Providing merchants with reliable and improved cash management facilities, ACH payment processing system gives you a single secure portal to manage and process your payments.

ELV

Direct debit ELV is the most popular payment processing system in Germany and is widely used there by customers who don't have credit cards. It offers a secure SSL encrypted terminal and payment processing options. The transfer of funds is handled through the merchant's bank and the amount is then transferred directly to the business account.

Bank Wire Transfers

This payment processing system allows merchants to become capable of transferring funds online. You get a worldwide access of transferring funds from your account to another. It's simple and secure but may require several hours to process.

Direct Debit

Convenient and hassle free, direct debit allows you to make regular transactions giving you time saving and easy solutions for accepting debit payments. More and more companies are now using direct debit payments for collecting various kinds of payments and bills. This payment processing system allows merchants to stretch payments over a longer period of agreed time and gives you multi-currency options along with real-time processing. Its simple and safe infrastructure makes it simple and easy for merchants to operate.

Providing various payment processing systems makes your business attain a higher level. You are able to gain potential customers and boost your sales, allowing your customers to accept payments anytime and anywhere.

About the Author

Instabill.com offers Merchant Accounts with diverse Payment Processing Options and Real-time Payment Processing.

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>