

Make Fun of Your Next Book Report

Book Report Comic Book Style

Okay it is time to turn your book report into a presentation. What you say! Why do I have to do this? Well let's make it fun. Make a presentation of your book into a comic book Use the list below:

1. Make a cover for your comic book which shows the book main idea in a picture. Make sure to make the picture colorful and interesting.
2. Now on the inside page list your author, and you as the illustrator (unless you had some help, then list that person.)
3. List the main characters on page 2.
4. Now the Story line on page 3. This is like the introduction in some books.
5. Start your comic book drawings to give the main story line. This is kind of like a time line only using a comic book strip and each time line shows a different comic with a caption. The caption can be short or longer. Probably needs to be several sentences if you want a decent grade on this project. Your teacher may even enjoy this as you will show your own personality and imagination in creating this presentation. When presenting to the class use enthusiasm and be dramatic.
6. As you go along list your conflicts or problems in the story. They should also have a comic drawing as well.
7. Finally conclude with a summary and maybe a final picture of the ending.

This is actually a great way to present your book report and kids will enjoy following along as you tell the story. Again make sure you make the comic colorful with fun pictures. Now you probably do not want to make a comic strip from a book that is very sad because a comic strip is meant to be funny and light hearted.

Get more information on book reports and find out how to write a book report and get plenty of ideas.

Written by Lesa Bolt internet information specialist. <http://bookreports.learn-about-it.com>

About the Author

Lesa is a contributor to <http://bookreports.learn-about-it.com>

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>