

Don,t park it, Embark it.

Have you got any domains parked and doing nothing. No site but the domain is still drawing traffic? what if you could make money from those parked domains?

A new companya> will do just that for you, they will turn that domain into a eight page muti media website that will not only look great but will be relevant to what the vistors were looking for. Not redirected to some other website they were not expecting.

The advertising will be linked to the content so the vistors will be more likely to be interested it the offers and you will more likely make money on that traffic that was going elsewhere and they will do it for free.

Just join for free point your servers to them and enter some keywords and with a click of the button you will have a new site up ready to make money from that traffic that was going to waste.

The content will be relevant to the domain and dynamic. It doesn,t matter if you have one , one hundred or a thousand domains they will turn them all into great looking modern muti media revenue generating websites

They have a new payment system you get paid a share of the company,s ownners shares per click each click earns you money no need to wait for click thrus. At the moment the average daily pay-out per click is between 25 to 30 cents.

If you hav e areally and your own adsense account you can pay a small monthly fee to keep all the revenue if you think that would be more than the company,s pay out system.

Sound good? You get it is click here to find out
