

Things That Women Don't Generally Ask But They Want To Hear

I always tell men to be nice to women. I know many men don't know this but women always want to hear and know that they are cherished. Do you ever ask your wife or your partner her opinion in your choices that you make in life? The fact that women will not ask a question on many of the things that you decide and do for them does not mean they are comfortable. They just bare with the domineering character of men! Quiteley, as men pretend to be deciding for women they keep asking themselves deep within their heart. "Do you want to share with me?", " Do you want to talk about it with me?" Women will constantly deep within themselves ask this questions. Women want to share with you men, involve them in the decision making in the home, in this way a lot of domestic quarrels will not be there.

Women are constantly worried about the inability of the modern man to perform in bed. As show of concern here are some common questions in these bedrooms: "What turns you on?", " How do you like it in bed". This is a major worry in many women as they look and watch their men boast and brag about their activity in bed. Demands and challenges of modern life, stresses and pressures of our work place has made the modern man very docile in bed. Some men are known to go home very late and drunk to avoid that embarrassment. Men be be nice to women. A nice and a loving woman will always ask the man what she can do to help him. Men are known to swim in pride and many will not take this questions kindly.

Women would want to be appreciated, once in a while tell her some nice words like "you look beautiful", "you are smart" or "I love you this much dear and i would want to spend the rest of my life with you" She will appreciate it so much and note! You will be treated like a king in his kingdom. Remember women take note more on what they hear than what they see. Men be nice to women, it will work wonders in your lives.

She wants men to be nice to women and show them concern. A mans reassurance every time he gets on opportunity makes the woman feel happy and cherished. Women are made of nice and sweet words, unlike men who give more attention to what they see, women wants to hear more. Words like am sorry are very important in the ears of a woman. If something is wrong and you fell you have wronged your partner words of apology are very important.

Men be nice to women and learn to whisper some sweet words in her ears like "You are no doubt my best friend", "You are no doubt a great mother", "Lets concentrate more on your shopping this weekend" This are some of the few words that receive a lot of warm reception in the ears of any woman. Once in a while learn to assist your partner in the things that she enjoy doing like cooking all other domestic work. When she goes shopping try as much as possible to accompany her and involve yourselves in the choice of what she wants to buy. This makes the woman feel that the decisions that you have made are done jointly and that sounds more fulfilling.

About the Author

Francis K. Githinji Is An Online Dating Expert. His Latest Project BE NICE TO WOMEN Shows How The Power Of Online Dating Can Be Harnessed Internationally and With Great Success, Or You Could Post Your Valued Comments On His Blog At BE NICE TO WOMEN

Source: <http://www.articletrader.com>