

Do You Need Ideas for Tea Party Baby Shower Invitations

If you are in charge of planning a baby shower and you have come up with the idea of making it a tea party baby shower then you will have to do a few extra things then you would with a regular baby shower. To start with you are going to have to have all of the invitations printed up tea party style and you can have that done at your local print shop.

Make sure that you specify that it is a tea party baby shower on them, so your guests will know. Then of course you are then going to have to pay a visit to your local baker to decide on what all you are going to be serving at your tea party baby shower in the way of small cakes and pastries.

One idea is to make your own small tea party sandwiches by using a cookie cutter to cut out bread in shapes that go along with your motif or theme of the baby shower. Of course, to have a tea party baby shower you are also going to need all of the serveware including table clothes and all of that can be had from your local rental outlet.

You will find if you call around that most rental yards that rent tools and equipment also rent out party necessities as well. You are going to have to give away some party favors as well at your event and small boxes of exotic teas are an excellent idea for a tea party baby shower.

Also, one other good idea is to keep some good coffee available for anyone that prefers coffee over tea at your event. Remember that for the mother to be, you should have decaf available in both coffee and tea for your event as well.
