

Top 3 Musts In How To Meet Girls Online

Sure there are many different things someone can do in order to meet girls online, but today I am going to be talking about the 3 most important things a guy has to do to meet girls online. We are not talking about saying hi and the girl saying hi back, we are talking about actually sparking an interest in her where she wants to, even feels like she HAS TO get to know you more. Everything from instant messengers to online social networking sites, there are many many venues of online ways to encounter women, so use whatever method you like best, the following applies to all.

Take It Slow At First - You need to be patient and first and realize the first time you speak with her online, she is probably not going to give you her number or tell you where she lives. So sit back and just talk normal with her. She does not want to feel consumed or that you might be a stalker. So avoid pressing questions at all costs. Remember, the sun will rise tomorrow, so take it one step at a time. Even though guys don't normally have this mentality, but acquire it, especially if you want to meet girls online.

Do Not Get Serious With Her Early On - Do not start asking her how many guys she had sex with or when she lost her virginity. If you start asking things like this too early, she will think you are just like every other guy online, just after sex. Sure in all honesty, you might be after that, but if you want to get her interested, do not ask really personal questions too early on. Also, answer her questions as best you can, and when it is your turn to ask, try to change up the question to show that you are being active and that you really care what she has to say.

Make Her Laugh - This is so important I cannot stress it enough. You must make her smile, joke with her, and get her to think you are fun to be around. You want her to envision the two of you hanging out, and getting her to laugh and smile will help her to do so. She has to let her guard down, and feel comfortable talking to you online. Making her laugh is a great way to gain her trust to an extent. Get her thinking how fun you are to be around and talk to, and not about what your intentions are with her.

So good luck in your quest of meeting girls online. But take what I say and apply it slowly. Remember, gain her online trust, and from there move to the bigger question, like what is your phone number. The real game begins then, but do not worry, just be yourself and all will fall into place.
